And now, Con- ing the loss of that steamer. gress being assembled, the great oppor tunity for conciliating all elements and classes by a just and unpartisan line of policy is not availed, but the same old spirit of prejudice and persecution crops out, which has kept the nation in strife and unhappy excitement ever since the war: it is still to rule, and a stronger hand than ever will be laid on all who have differed however mildly from the dominant party. These facts must cause sincere regret to every true lover of his country. We had hoped that an ers of better feeling had dawned and that such broad ideas would be adopted as to disarm opposition and satisfy the whole people that the government would be administered for their benefit, and not run as a mere 'political machine to

In our telegraphic dispatches to day from Washington it will be seen that a hill of much importance to the State of Tennessee was introduced yesterday in the House. The Government holds three bonds amounting to $453,738 31, signed by the Governor of Tennessee (Brown low doubtless), all bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent., for aid given certain railrouds.
